

Quietskies

Over San Juan County

Update: April 2016

GREETINGS:

SAVE THE DATE: Wednesday, May 11, Lopez Center, 7-9pm

* Living on Lopez in a War Training Zone *******

Dahr Jamail, author and reporter for Truthout, will discuss the impacts of the Navy's expansion of activities into non-military lands and waters in our N.W. Washington region and where San Juan County fits into the picture.

* * * * *

WE NEED TO KEEP IN MIND THAT WE ARE MAKING A DIFFERENCE.

Our legislators are beginning to realize that many of us do not hold a vision of our extraordinary public lands and rural communities becoming war training zones. The Seattle Times article a few weeks ago helped to show the broad reach of military expansion and where San Juan County fits in.

<http://www.seattletimes.com/seattle-news/politics/jets-helicopters-rockets-military-plans-more-uses-of-northwest-public-lands/>

AND - This is an election year. Senator Murray and Representative Larsen are both up for re-election.

AND - Keep using the San Juan County Noise reporting site. This data is being sent to our legislators.
sjcgis.org/aircraft-noise-reporting/

Thanks to all for working to reclaim our Quiet Skies.

www.quietskies.info

<https://www.facebook.com/quietskiesoversanjuancounty>

Dahr Jamail has reported from Iraq, Syria, Lebanon, Turkey and Jordan. He has also reported extensively on veterans' resistance against US foreign policy, and is now focusing on anthropogenic climate disruption and the environment.

A graduate of Texas A&M, Dahr has earned numerous awards, including the 2008 Martha Gellhorn Award for Journalism, The Lannan Foundation Writing Residency Fellowship, the James Aronson Award for Social Justice Journalism, the Joe A. Callaway Award for Civic Courage, and five Project Censored awards.

- See more at:

<http://dahrjamail.net/about#sthash.Kp0ZNQV3.dpuf>